

THE KEITH BUSSE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND ENTREPRENEURIAL LEADERSHIP

Presents

Success Leaves Tracks:

FOLLOWING THE FOOTPRINTS FOR BUSINESS GROWTH AND SUCCESS

18TH Annual CEO Forum October 20, 2011

The University of Saint Francis MBA class, BUS 676, Entrepreneurial Consulting, is accepting a consulting project for the spring semester. The consulting services will be free.*

Due to the time constraints of the semester, only one business will be chosen. Students in this class will have completed the majority of their MBA course work, and will be led by an experienced professor.

Projects may include sales, marketing, strategy, organizational behavior, organizational health, organizational leadership, finance, etc.

Confidentiality and non-compete agreements will be signed, and the students must be given on-site facility and records access to provide the consultation.

If you have an upcoming task that you would like to be considered for this class project, please fill out the information below.
